CALL FOR PAPERS

Dear Presenters,

We are pleased to announce that the Call for Papers for the "New Frontiers" topical issue of Patchwork student journal is now open!

We invite all presenters to submit their proposals to the following e-mail address: patchwork.anglophonia@gmail.com in a Word document format.

We accept all papers presented at the fourth international student conference in English Studies "Anglophonia: New Frontiers".

The submitted papers will undergo a selection process.

The preferred length of the paper depends on the topic researched, but they should be no shorter than 8, and no longer than 18 MLA-style pages long. Please note that we require all papers to be submitted in the MLA-style form.

Please find below the instructions for authors.

The deadline for the submission of papers is 31 October 2019.

We are looking forward to reading your works!

The Editorial Board

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

Submitting the paper

All the papers should be submitted in the .doc or .docx format to the Patchwork e-mail patchwork.anglophonia@gmail.com. We do not accept papers published in other journals.

Structure

The manuscript should be written in English and not exceed 18 MLA-style pages.

Each paper should contain the following:

Author's full name, name of the institution, e-mail address.

Abstract (200-300 words) and key words (max. 6).

Font

Please use the font Times New Roman, 12 pt., double-spaced.

Use 14 pt. for the title and 10 pt. for footnotes, captions, tables, illustrations and other document elements that are not part of the manuscript.

Formatting

Paper should be formatted in MLA style. We advise all authors to consult the MLA guidelines before submitting their papers. The guidelines are available here: <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/>

Review Process

The Editorial Board will not consider articles which do not comply with the formal standards of the journal. The journal uses double-blind reviews.

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the paper is transferred to the publisher if the article is accepted for publication.
